Unfortunate as it may appear to those of us who had visions of beneficial improvements from incorporation, the majority of voters in the district have exercised their right in voting the proposition down. Whether the task ahead will be heavier or lighter than it has in the past depends entirely upon the reaction of those who voted the plan down. They are in the majority and therefore, under our form of government, control our future as a community. The work ahead should be no more difficult than in the past. It is incumbent upon us, each and all, to put our shoulders to the wheel, work together and continue the march of progress. We cannot stop or we will go behind. There is no such medium as standing still either as individuals or as a community; we go ahead or we go back. Our sincere belief is that incorporation would have solved many of our problems, but we can still have them and keep progressing if we don't become discouraged and continue to fight for what we need and must have as the finest recreational center in the country.

Most of the resorts at Lake Tahoe and elsewhere in this vicinity are preparing for the seasonal opening tomorrow, taking advantage of the three-day holiday for the event. There is every indication that this approaching season will be the biggest in the history of the area and the resort men are making elaborate preparations for handling increased crowds throughout the summer. The prediction that a banner summer is ahead is well founded. Bureaus familiar with conditions everywhere offer the same prediction and with this fine prospect ahead, we here in Truckee, the center of the area, should make every effort to boost the district and provide service and accommodations which will result in next year being even greater.

One of the most impressive ways, we believe, to attract people the second time to our community is to make the community more presentable. Without incorporation, it is a job for individuals, but we can do it and should by all means. Let's work toward that end and we guarantee worthwhile results.

Truckee Voters Reject Plan To Incorporate Area

Proposition Loses By 48 Votes in Local Election

START NEW MOVE

Another Election As Soon As Possible May Be Had

By a vote of 168 to 120, the people of Truckee rejected a proposal to incorporate the district at the polls Tuesday, thus postponing for another year, at least, the benefits to be derived from incorporation. Proponents of the plan have already announced plans to call another election as soon as the law of limitation expires, determined to carry on a thorough program of education and bring into the open all arguments for and against, so that no confusion will mark the closing days before the vote is taken.

It was not revealed when this proposed action would be commenced.

Nearly 300 voters turned out to express their opinions at the polls Tuesday and while this was no record vote, it did indicate the interest the issue caused. The fact that 12 years ago the same proposition lost by a 40 to 1 majority lends encouragement to the proponents.

If the proposition had carried, a city council consisting of E. L. Loynd (88 votes), Al Fontana (57 votes), Laurence Owens (49 votes), F. W. Gainnie (43 votes) and R. P. Bick (42 votes) would have been responsible for the running of the affairs of the city. W. H. Laity was "elected" city clerk over Rev. Grant Keetch by a 46 to 41 vote and Yell Nobles was the overwhelming favorite for city treaurer with 88 votes. Beside the "victorious" candidates, there were more than 50 other names written in for the various offices.

The pilots will have breakfast at Capitol Hall and the public is invited to attend and enjoy the session. The Lions Club will be host to the visitors.

Sig Uliand, national ski star, was taken in as a new member at the meeting. Other guests included Palmer Foster, telephone company official, and Otis Hursey, who has returned to his work here as driver for Fontana's Laundry.

Ailing Recluse is Suicide In Parked Car in Town

A .38 revolver in his right hand and a bullet hole in his forehead gave Sheriff Carl Tobiassen and his officers indications that "Bud" Marshall, whose age is believed to be between 45 and 50, had committed suicide when his body was found in a parked car in Truckee Friday night. The sheriff and Cororner A.M. Holmes were called to investigate after the body had been found in the car south of the railroad tracks. They estimated the man had been dead for a week.

Not much is known of the deceased except that he slept in his car and lived in the open in Truckee for some time and had been apparently destitute as he robbed garbage cans and generally begged for his living. He was in ill-health for some time due to after effects of service in the World War.

Upon investigation of his camp, officers found seven suits of expensive clothing. Further investigations are going on.

FRANCE TAKES A NEW ROLE

The last shreds of sovereignty, now stripped from France, today have brought that nation to the abject status of a German colony. France ha-been imprisoned behind the facade of the National Socialist state. Full rights have been given Germany to use all French air fields and naval bases in France, Syria and Africa in prosecuting its present attack on Britain and perhaps its ultimate attack on the United States. Meanwhile with the indemnity collected from France for its defeat, Germany is rapidly buying out French industrial firms and newspapers, and has secured control of the leading school text book publishing firm—doubtless with an eye to "educating" French youth for its proper status in the "New Order". Nations have been conquered before, have suffered indemnities, have lost certain territories by defeat, but the "New Order" is far feated more far-reaching than that. Under its radical program, the industrial manpower and resources of the defeated nation, its press, communication nd educational systems are directly incorporated into the master state. And France, once a great world power, is now in bondage to such a state.

THEY KNOW WHAT THEY WANT

Coming events, casting their shadows before them, foretell increasing collaboration between Josef Stalin and Adolf Hitler. This week reports have been heard of an impending military allince between their two countries, an alliance that, in effect, would weld into a sinngle bloc approximately 700 million people inhabiting a total area of 11,700,000 square miles, or nearly one-fourth the world's total inhabitable land area. This would be even more ominous news to the United States were it not for the fact that this is an age of mechanized warfare, and that the productive manpower of Europe's and Russia's millions is, as yet, very low compared with America's, though Russia is rich in still untapped natural resources. It is, at any rate, clear that the totalitarian powers have a plan, that they know what they want, and that they are willing to pay any price to fulfill their ambitious designs. It is equally clear that it is high time for the United States to formulate a plan, to decide what it wants and the price it is willing to pay to carry out its aims.

THE MAN WHO PAYS

With good reason, a special senatorial committee is turning critical eyes on Camp Blanding, Fla. This large training camp for selectees was scheduled to cost $9 million, but before the last nail is driven home, its cost will have soared to $29 million, more than a 200 per cent increase. The difference will have to come out of the pocket of the man on the street who has no objection to taxes for defense, but earnestly hopes that committee will clamp the lid tight henceforth on taxes for profiteering.

HISTORY AS YOU LIKE IT

To these history-making times, California has added a history-making chapter of her own on the sunlit side. Today the state is actually spending less than it takes in, its sales tax revenue since last July has climbed nearly 24 per cent, its cash deficiency is lower, relief expenditures are half what they were last year. This is history we like to read about!

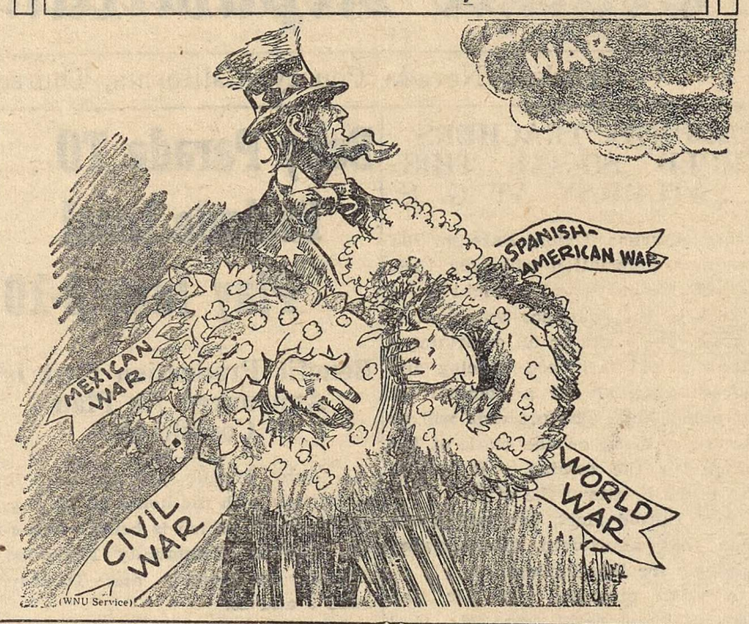
Memorial Day



EDITORIALS

IN MEMORIAM

On Friday, in most states, Memorial Day will be celebrated in honor of our heroic dead.

The greatness that is America's lies in three fields. The past, the present and the future. The future today is before us as it never has been been. People are aroused to the perils and possibilities of the future as never before in history. The present is always with us and cannot be escaped, even though escape would quite often appear desirable.

However, all too few of us have lost sight of the pathes of the past. It is for us on May 30 to turn our backs on the future and lay aside the present to contemplate the past and its lessons. A man or a nation that cannot learn from history is not very advanced.

The particular phase of the past which will be commemorated tomorrow will be the past of our military dead. We honor them not because they were ever victorious although no defeat stains our shield. We do not honor them for fighting, but for the things they fought for. They fought and they won because they had to in order to preserve our nation's heritage and destiny.

Today we should do all within our power that these shall not have died in vain. We must guard with our very lives the libertys that are ours by virtue of their blood. We must reaffirm our uncompromised faith in the American Freedoms of speech, press, worship and reason, the veins through which flows the life-blood of our nation.

MAKE IT SAFE AND SANE

The three-day week-end of Memorial Day holiday will send hundreds of thousands of cars streaming over the highways of California to resorts, mountain areas and the beaches.

Crowded highways, jammed with long lines of machines anxious to reach their destinations in the shortest time possible, are going t make demands on motorists' patience. But isn't it better to pay with a few minutes' delay than, by incautious driving, to pay with a lifetime of regret? Isn't it far better to take a brief "time out" than a long chance, bringing irreparable misfortune to loved ones, yourself, or some guiltless other party?

Make your Memorial Day excursion memorable for the good time you had, not for the avoidable misfortune it brought! Make it a safe, sane and happy holiday.

Although the spirit be not master of that which it creates through music, yet it is blessed in thiscreation. which, like every creation of art, is mightier than the artist.
——Beethoven

Happiness is the legitimate fruitage of love and service.

this week

At the Legislature

with Allen G. Thurman
6th Dist. Assemblyman

The most important measure passed by the lower house last week was the Garland Bill No. 2620, a measure designed to cut California taxes by more than $25,000,000 during the 1941-43 biennium. The measure passed the assembly by a vote of 53 to 26. It now goes to the senate where it may face some opposition.

The Garlannd measure would reduce the sales and use tax revenue b.y $18,600,000; the motor transportation tax collections, $450,000; bank annd corporation levies, $2,350,000; personal income tax, $2,100,000, and the liquor and wine excise taxes, $1,700,000.

The bill would also reduce the sales tax from 3 per cent to two and one half per cent on July 1, 1942 and would be effective until June 30, 1944. The other levies would be cut by a "credit of 15 per cent", with the alholic beverage and motor transportation taxes effective on July 1, 1942, and the others December 31st of the same year.

Speaker Gordon Garland presented his bill from the floor of the assembly. He said in part:

"The people of California now are faced with the most staggering tax load in their history. We must give them relief if they are to carry the increasing burden of federal taxation resulting from the defense activities.

"I can't understand how anyone could oppose this bill. The state income now is 23 per cent above the estimate in the Governor's budget and it will continue to increase. Even if it doesn't, our deficit can be wiped out and we can have a surplus in spite of these tax cuts."

The budget bill which passed the Senate last week is now before a free conference committee of three members of each house after the lower house refused to concur in Senate amendments. As was predicted in this column, the Senate finance committee added $250,000 to the state forest division's budget to take care of increased wages for fire fighting crews.

A bill which would have changed the present grand pury system in the state was defeated in the Assembly last week with most of the rural legislators voting against the measure. The bill proposed that members of trial juries would be selected for grand jury service.

The collective bargaining measure to make collective bargaining agreements between employers and organized labor enforcable at law and equity in the courts, passed the lower house with a vote of 69 to 1. Prior to the passage of the measure it was amended by the house.

Relief and reapportionment still remain to be settled by the legislature. Inasmuch as the legislators pay stopped last week, it is likely that the business of both houses may be completed on or about June 10th.

THE FUTURE

The present is never our object; the past and the present we use as means; the future only is our end. Thus, we never live, we only hope to live.

Among successful fishermen at Tahoe Inn last weekend were Charles F. Dodgson who caught a 34 inch German brown weighing 5½ pounds off the Tahoe City Pier and Pater Bercut of San Francisco who caught two good sized German browns tipping the scales at 10 pounds, also at Tahoe City.

Tahoe branch of the American Sunday School Union meets every Sunday morning at 9:45 a.m. at the Tahoe Community Center. About 30 people attended last Sunday's services. All students who attend regularly will be given copies of the Bible as rewards.

Peter Burkett of Oakland brought in a fine catch of Loch Leven from the lake on Sunday.

Franklin Dinus, 9-year-old Tahoe City lad, caught a 13-inch white fish from the Truckee River this week.

He found a lot of snow in spots in the higher places, but indications for some excellent fishing in the creeks which open up May 30. Many mountain quail are found this year.

Highways were thronged with motorists again over the weekend and resorts reported heavy advance booking for the Decoration Day holidays.

The Truckee-Tahoe shortcut road near the Brockway golf links has been open for some time past, Joe King having opened the few bad spots where plows were needed.

Mrs. Fred Cowell, former Tahoe resident who was visiting local friends last week, brought up about 100 choice chrysanthemum plants for the school students to plant in their co-operative gardens. Students were engaged in making leaf prints of native plants this week with many fine designs resulting from their work. Several excellent modeled examples of jungle farm utensils, elephants, boats, native huts, etc., are on display in the intermediate room where "Life in the Jungles" is the current project of study.

LOUISE MILLER WEDS WM. H. STEENIS IN RENO RITES MAY 25

TAHOE CITY, May 29.—Our Lady of the Snows Chapel in Reno was the setting on Sunday, May 25, for the 2 p.m. ceremoney that united Miss Marie Louise Miller and William Heis Steenis. Father John Ryan officiated at the service with the bride's sister, Mrs. Phyllis Carroll as matron of honor and Robert Lee Steenis, brother of the groom, as best man. A reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy M. Cross at 108 Greenridge Drive followed the ceremony with a buffet juncheon, large wedding cake and many lovely gifts.

Among those present Mr. and Mrs. James Steenis, Mrs. Kate Benning, Mrs. Helen McNeer, Mrs. Lou Hayes, C. L. Beach and Paul Walters, all of Reno; Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Swanson and son, James, of Tahoe; Frank L. Stebbins of Carson City; Mrs. William Avery, Sparks; Mrs. Jerry Kincaid, Carmel, sister of the bride; Walter Gooch of Reno; and Carl Brooks, Tahoe.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mrs. C. A. Swanson of Tahoe and Samuel Miller of Carmel, wore a pale blue woolen suit with white accessories and a cluster of white gardenias. She graduated from Moreland Notre Dame Academy in Watsonville and has been a resident of Reno for nearly five years past. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Steenis of Reno and attended University of Nevada following his graduation from Reno high school.

A wedding supper for twelve relatives and friends was served at the Colombo at 7 p.m. by the groom's mother. The young couple will make their home in Reno where Steenis is employed by the Cross Lumber Co.

Two File for School Job In Kings Beach District

Thomas F. Doherty and D. C. Barnett of Kings Beach have filed for school trustee in their district, according to Elwyn H. Gregory, the Placer county school superintendent. Mrs. Dorothy O'Brien, the incumbent, did not file for retention.

A write-in will be required to elect a trustee for the Tahoe Lake school since no one had filed prior to the deadline last Thursday for the seat now held by Henry Worden of Ward Creek Camp. Elections will be held June 6.

Game Warden Bill LaMarr reported the first deer killed on the highway this season Tuesday morning near Truckee when a fine yearling doe was hit by a motorist. Last season a total of 40 deer were killed by cars in this region.

Mrs. Faye K. Russell and Mrs. Amy Burnett of Lincoln were guests at Tahoma Monday night.

Mrs. Dot Gwinn of Auburn was a guest at the C. W. Vernon home this week.

TAHOE SCHOOLS TO GRADUATE ELEVEN IN JUNE PROGRAMS

TAHOE CITY, May 29.— Tahoe Lake Elementary school students will present their graduation exercises and program at the school auditorium on June 20 at 8 p.m. which will be the date of the closing of classes for the summer recess. Seven graduates of the eighth grade will present a play of their own composition entitled "America, Our Homeland". Many other interesting numbers and features will be included on the program. The graduates are Shirley Moore, June White, Joe White, Jackson Palmer, Robert Edwards, Tommy Adam and Jack Riley.

Tahoe branch of Placer Union High School will hold commencement exercises at the gymnasium of the Auburn branch of the school on Thursday, May 29, at 8 p.m. in conjunction with the Auburn program. The Tahoe graduates are Helen Worden, Mary Jane Soll, Rodney Yeakel and Billy Bechdolt, all of whom are planning to continue their education at colleges and universities.

A very high percentage of the graduates of the Tahoe high school have gone on to college since the first graduation in 1934. No so-called "youth problem" has ever existed at Tahoe where out of 18 graduates, nine have gone on to universities, five have attended colleges and technical schools and others have either found their place in business or government, civil or military. A great deal of credit its due to the stimulus they received in their school training.

Automobile Mail Service Started After Tragedy

LAKE TAHOE, May 29.— B. M. Brodehl, father of Captain Arthur Brodehl who was drowned with two other persons while making mail deliveries in a launch, said the Lake Tahoe area mail will be delivered entirely by automobile in the future.

Captain Brodehl, his 10 year old step-son, Donald, and Everett Dolan, Los Angeles mail clerk, were lost last week when the launch Marion B capsized during a storm. The elder Brodehl is continuing mail deliveries by auto under a contract which still has two years to run.

Search for Brodehl's body has been unavailing so far. Last Thursday his sister, Miss Rebecca Brodehl of Washington, toured the entire lake in the Chris Craft Elsie B III, but no signs of the lost man were found. Constable Harry Johanson is still conducting a shore search as well as several private parties who are faithfully carrying on the work.

Funeral services for the lost boy were held at East Lawn in Sacramento on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. His Tahoe schoolmates were pall bearers including Richard Hinkle, Howard Carnell, Peter Vanni and Dennis Moore. Present from the lake besides the immediate family and young friends were Mr. and Mrs. Philip Gallinger, Mrs. James Dyer and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Carnell.

The Tahoe branch of the American Sunday School Union held candlelight memorial services for Donald at the vespers services at Tahoe Community Center Sunday evening. Rev. Grant Keetch of Truckee conducted the service with Tejas Edwards singing "Crossing The Bar" and "The Old Rugged Cross", accompanied by Mrs. Edwards who later played Chopin's nocturne, "Going Home". The candle lighting was carried out by Miss Betty Woodruff. The hall was decorated by schoolmates and friends in evergreens, flowers and an altar with a white cross.

My Place In The Sun

by DOUG BARRETT

Rufe Gregory of the Sportland received a letter that we—he and I—thought might be interesting to the old timers and hot stove historians so I'm printing it verbatim in this column this week:

"I would like to get a book known as 'The History of the Donner Party' by C. F. McGlashen.

"As it was written in Truckee, I thought perhaps you may be able to secure a copy. If you can, if you will advise as to its cost....I will send the amount to you.

"I'm going back into ancient history. My father was agent for the Examiner for 20 years in Truckee, selling out in 1892. I was raised in the old town of which I have many pleasant memories. McGlashen was one of my school teachers. I came to S.F. in '92 and have been the Examiner's route agent here for many years. The many friends of those old days have scattered or gone to our last camping ground. I myself am getting along in years and I guess like old men, our minds go back in retrospection to the days of long ago and we feel again those happy, youthful days.

"Erastus G. Harrison."

If you think prices are high here—as some misinformed consumers do—it might interest you to know that in London today strawberries are brining a price of 20 cents each. Please pass the short-cake, pappy!

A week from tomorrow the school board elections will be held here in Truckee and promise to be rather interesting in their quiet little ways. It was gratifying to see opposition develop in both cases although the incumbents may deserve return. Both Tille Smith and Mrs. Thomas are conscientious, hard-working trustees and have a great many friends in the community. Both Mrs. Weeden and "Young Bill" Wilkie are well qualified for any community service they may assume. The point is that no elective office should be gained by default for want of opposition. No matter how efficient and capable an incumbent may be, he—or, in this case, she—cannot serve even part of a term without making mistakes and creating opposition. Under our governmental system, opposition is the heart of its existence. Regardless of the outcome, the voters may be assured of a voice and a wise choice, for all four candidates are equally deserving of support.

My friend (and the friend of most of Truckee), Mr. Bianchi is back in the window of the Sierra Sun. Of all the people I know, I believe that Bianchi is deserving of more than passing comment in this column. I only hope that at the age of 84 I am as virile, alert, active and independent as he is. Still able to do the most delicate work with the craftsmanship of a master, he is keener of mind than most men half his age. Life to him is not something in books but something to live. This week I humbly tipple the topper to A. Bianchi, "expert Swiss watch maker."

National Defense

Federal Loan Administrator Jones announced the allocation of $650 million for use in enlarging the bomber program by building government-owned plants and increasing the supply of essential materials.

The War Department announced the award of contracts totaling $322,500,000 for 22-ton bombers to be produced at new government-owned plants at Fort Worth, Texas, and Tulsa, Okla. The department described the award of the contracts as a "major step toward the 500 bombers a month goal" set by the President when he said the democracies must achieve superiority in the air. OPM Director Knudsen asked airplane manuacturers to prepare to make an undisclosed additional number of heavy bombers.

The Navy reported its air program "slightly ahead of schedule" with 3,500 planes on hand May 1, as compared with 2,172 ten months before. The department said that by January, 1942, its training program will supply sufficient pilots for 15,000 planes, its goal.

Ships

The Maritime Commission announced the delivery of seven new ships, an addition or 50,200 tons, to the American merchant feet. The Senate and the House enacted legislation authorizing the President to requisition foreign shipping immobilized in U. S. ports. Maritime Commission Chairman Land asked newspaper editors, radio stations and other sources of public information to withhold news of merchant ships used to aid Britain and other democracies.

Aid to Europe

President Roosevelt authorized the dispatch of two merchant hips to Ireland with $500,000 worth of food for distribution to civilians under supervision of the Red Cross. The ships will sail under Irish registry with Irish crews.

Civilan Defense

President Roosevelt established an Office of Civilian Defense and appointed New York's Mayor LaGuardia as director to carry out programs for the protection of life and property in an emergency with the volunteer help of men, women and children throughout the nation. Director LaGuardia said volunteers will be organized to protect vital utilities in the event of an attack, carry on first aid and deal with problems of welfare, evacuation, housing and food.

FBI Director Hoover announced that 150,000 local law enforcement officers are being enlisted in a voluntary plan to rout fifth columnists.

Cost of Living

Labor Secretary Perkins announced a 2.2 percent rise in the cost of living in larger cities above the 1935-1939 average and 3.7 percent above August, 1939, just prior to the European war. She said food prices were up 5 percent over last autumn, rents up 0.3 percent in the last month and clothing up 2.2 percent. The Labor Department reported, however, the earnings of workers in the manufacturing industries advanced to new high levels—5.4 per cent more than March, 1940, with an average hourly earning of 69.7 cents or $29.11 a week.

Selective Service

Congress amended the Selective Service Act to exempt from service under the act former regulars and reservists of the Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard. Deputy Director Hershey announced that although the Army has sufficient dental and veterinary officers, dentists and veterinaries and students in these professions should be deferred to avoid a civilian shortage.

The OPM informed Selective Service Headquaters there will soon be a shortage in the metal-working trades and urged deferments to avoid this. OPM pointed out that when a skilled worker is inducted, the plant loses not only the individual but also the time of a skilled man needed to train a replacement.

Labor Disputes

OPM Director Hillman, speaking in New York, said "there are no insoluble problems in management-labor relations....only some prejudices....that must be eliminated" to create the "mutual trust which must animate any sound labor policy." Cooperation will result, he said, when labor problems are treated not as a "nuisance" but "worthy of serious study and consideration."

Foreign Affairs

Agriculture Secretary Wickard, speaking at Hutchinson, Kansas, said "....in Latin America many countries are watching to see whether we will make good our promise or.... simply talk and gesture....Millions of Britains are watching us who can't go on unless our help is made effective. The Nazis and Fascists are watching us and every sign of inndecision and division fills them with joy. If we simply talk....they'll rule the world."

War Secretary Stimson and Navy Secretary Knox told their press conferences the Neutrality Act, which prohibits American shipping in combat zones, should be repealed and the U. S. should return to the former policy of freedom of the seas. Addressing the Society of Naval Architects and Marine Engineers, Knox said the U. S. must be prepared to make sacrifices "that will match any sacrifices made by any generation of Americans before us."

Secretary of State Hull, speaking in Washington, said control of the seas is a prime objective of the Axis and its program for world domination. Should the Axis succeed, Mr. Hull said, all countries will face economic enslavement and control of international business by military and political forces.

Other Activities

Congress increased the pay of parachute troop officers by $100 a month and the pay of enlisted parachutists by $50 a month, and authorized training of enlisted men as pilots ....The Army announced testing of secret methods of combatting blitz warfare....The Treasury sold $257,650,000 of Defense Bonds in the first 17 days—"better than expected"....Commerce Dept. reports exports to Japan off 48 percent from last year.

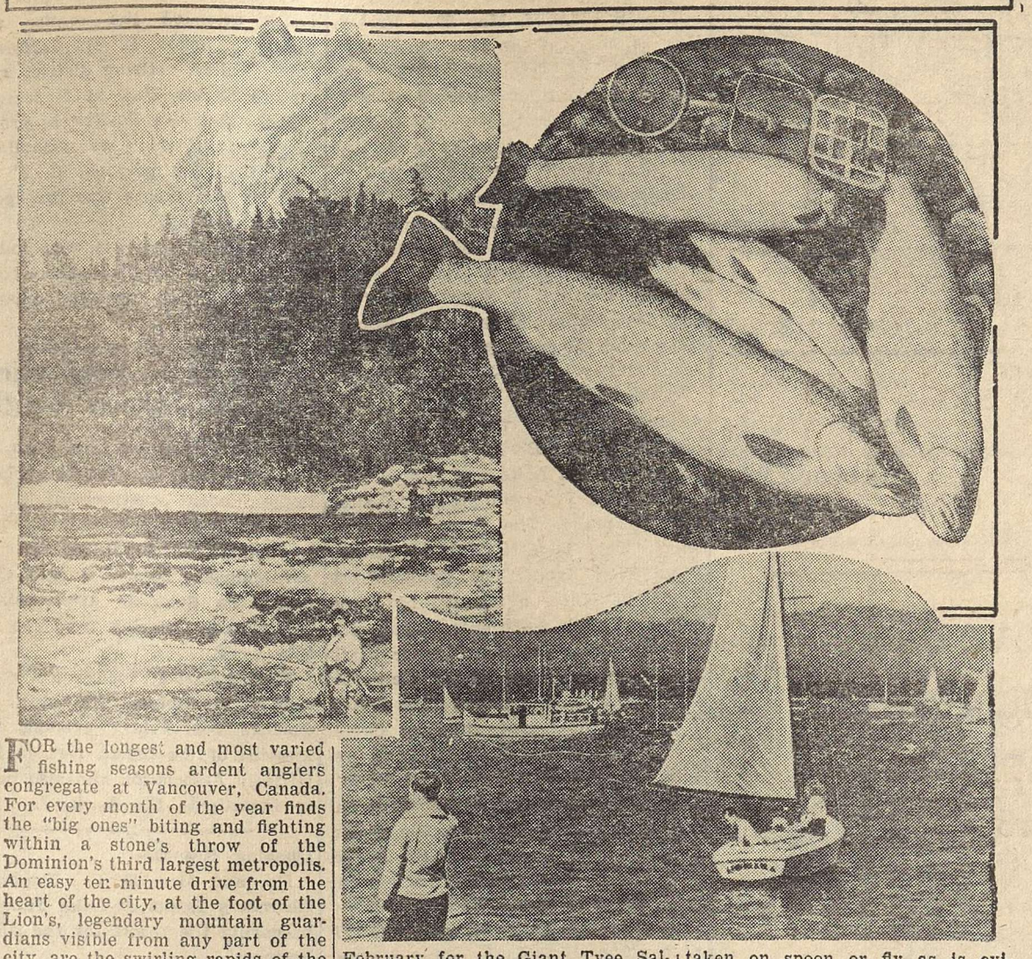
VANCOUVER IS ANGLER'S PARADISE



FOR the longest and most varied fishing seasons ardent anglers congregate at Vancouver, Canada. For every month of the year finds the "big ones" biting and fighting within a stone's throw of the Dominion's third largest metropolis. An easy ten-minute drive from the heart of the city, at the foot of the Lion's, legendary mountain guardians visible from any part of the city, are the swirling rapids of the Capilano River, natural haunt of the gamest fresh water fish in the world, in which (upper left) a sportsman prepares to try his skill. The seasons, now open, stay open according to districts until next February for the Giant Tyee Salmon and the Cohoe in the salt water streams and inlets, and the Cutthroat, Steelhead, Dolly Varden and Kamloops among others in the provincial fresh waters. Great baskets of clean and sporty fish can be taken on spoon or fly as is evidenced (above) by the two hour catch of Kamloops ranging up to six pounds. Salt water fishermen (lower right) start out to cast from yachts on Vancouver's famous English Bay.

WINGS FOR AMERICA
by Don Wiley
MEMBER, AVIATION WRITERS ASS'N

The test flight of the B-19 has aroused an extraordinary amount of public speculation about this most spectacular contribution of the California aircraft industry to national defense.

A question we've heard quite frequently of late is this:

Pursuit vs. Bomber

"Is an airplane as big as the B-19 really practical? Couldn't a $16,000 pursuit plane knock this $3,000,000 giant out of the sky?"

The answer to that one is: Perhaps ....if a pursuit ship with guns heavy enough to disable the bomber could get close enough to hit the big ship without being knocked out first.

The likelehood of that happening is pretty remote. For the B-19 not only is the largest but certainly is the most heavily armed airplane the world has ever seen.

For obvious reasons the Army Air Corps hasn't released any data on the B-19's armament. But recent pictures show three power-driven gun turrets —one in the nose, the others on top the fuselage between the pilot's compartment and the tail structure.

Quick Firing Cannon

And the presence of those turrets indicates at least three quick-firing cannon—probably of 37 millimeters, capable of hurling explosive shells a mile or more (though there have been entirely unconfirmed rumors of even heavier guns being designed for this ship which certainly is big enough to carry them).

In addition, the B-19 has a tail turrett and numerous other stations for heavy machine guns along the sides and bottom of the 135-foot fuselage.

Now, it is true that pursuit ships also carry cannon (though we're beginning to wonder if some of the stories coming out of Europe anent the size and number of shell guns on the newest pursuits over there aren't a trifle exaggerated). But an enemy pilot would certainly have to be in a suicidal frame of mind to try to dive through the B-19's immensely superior fire power to get close enough for some really effective shooting.

Aeril Battleship

In other words, the B-19 is really an air battleship, possessing something of the same superiority in fire power over a pursuit that a dreadnaught has over a destroyer. And it isn't often that you hear of a destroyer getting in close enough to sink a battleship, unless the bigger ship has been disabled by the guns of another battleship.

Carrying out the comparison, it seems likely that whenever an airplane the size of the B-19 goes on a military mission it will have a screen of escort fighters—just as a battleship is accompanied by destroyers—making the job of enemy attackers doubly difficult.

Kings Beach Kiddies Give 27th Novelty "Broadcast"

by MADELINE GALLERANI

KINGS BEACH, May 29.— Friday, May 23, marked the 27th consecutive broadcast of "station" KBS with Norma Peterson as mistress of ceremonies.

The singing of "America" and "God Bless America" and the Pledge of Allegiance, led by tiny Jerry Todd, opened the program. The next item on the program was Billy Stelzrede and Jean Wallace's rendition of "Home on the Range" and "My Doggie's Name is Guess". Norma King read "Express for Poppy Land". Irene Gallerani and Jim Astle played "America" on the piano. Dr. I.Q. (Robert Appleby) was supported by Irene Gallerani, Barbara O'Brien, Jim Astle, Richard Astle and Billy Peterson. Norma Peterson played "Waltz" on the piano. The primary grades sang "This is Little Yellow Head", "Our Flag" and "The Soldiers". A poem, "I Know a Secret", by Irene Gallerani.
